The Best Promoter.

The carefully prepared and well displayed advertisement is the most successful "promoter." It "sells" more people in one day than the average human promoter can interview in the whole of his professional career. It appeals to the reader directly and convincingly, and catches trade that could not be influenced by the most eloquent talker. The wise business man employs the most potential agent to strengthen and increase his business.

The will of the late Mary Hickey has been admitted to record.

The State Federation of Labor will meet in Lexington next year.

There are seven Maysville people employed at the Phillips House, Dayton, O., all secured through an advertisement in THE LEDGER. It pays to let your wants be known.

THE LEDGER personally guarantees the high character of "A Poor Relation," which will be presented at the Opera-house Monday evening. Many of those who saw it last year will go again, and all who have not seen it should not let this opportunity pass. It is not likely to come this way again.

MIXED-UP CASE.

Something Out of the Ordinary in Judge Newell's Court.

Some eight years ago Mr. Tina Brooks eloped with a Miss Gillespie from Dover and was married in Aberdeen.

Subsequently a girl baby was born to them.

Meantime Miss Gillespie's mother had moved from Dover to Illinois and the daughter went to her on a visit, taking the child with her.

During her stay in Illinois Mr. Brooks made her a visit and on returning home brought the child with him.

Mrs. Brooks remained in Illinois and applied for and secured a divorce from Mr. Brooks, and under the decree was given custody of the child.

Afterward Mr. Brooks married again and has since been keeping the child at his home.

Mrs. Brooks also married again, her second husband being a Preacher with three children, and recently they returned to Dover.

Some time ago she instituted habeas corpus proceedings for the recovery of her child and yesterday the case was set for hearing before Judge Newell.

After the Attorneys for Mr. Brooks had stated the case the first Mrs. Brooks was attacked with violent hysteria and she lay for several hours unconscious in the Judge's office.

This necessitated a postponement of the case for three weeks when it will come up again.

Mrs. Gillespie, the mother of the plaintiff, who is now living with her fourth husband, was present during the proceedings.

HON. SMITH YERKES, ESQ.

Was a Rival of "Hello Bill" as a Monumental Liar.

CONSTABLE DAWSON'S BIG DOLLAR

The day following the late scrap between the forces of the Hon. John W. Yerkes and Mr. John Crepps Wickliffe Beckham, there sailed into THE LEDGER an imposing form, clad in a big chrysanthemum, gray-toned hair and beard, good clothes, a glib tongue and enough gall to sink a battleship.

Pendant from his watch chain and emblazoned on his lapel was a dress-parade of society emblems, running the gamut from a Blue Lodge Mason to the festive Shriner, and cavoring down the scale from a member of the Loyal Legion to a plain private in the G. A. R., while there were numerous "markers" representing the Oddfellows, Knights of Pythias and other kindred bodies.

Mister Yerkes had read in THE LEDGER an article concerning his brother, who was none other, he said, than the Hon. John W. Yerkes, and he desired above all things a copy of the paper, which he paid for. Not finding the coveted article, he concluded that he must have read it in "some other paper."

But this formality gave him full entrance, and he proceeded to a deliverance of his late heart-touching experiences, rendered in graphic language and with an impressiveness which tingled clear down to the Editor's toes.

He had long been a resident of Galveston; was there when the terrible storm burst upon and destroyed that once proud city; his home, his wife, his daughters, his all, had been swallowed up in that mighty deluge; but with his own life spared, and with a heart as stout as a three-inch hawser, he blew up the wreck of his once happy home with dynamite, recovered and buried the remains of his loved ones—and took charge of a couple of Masonic orphans whom he was now commissioned to deliver to relatives in Ohio!

During the recital of this harrowing—and plowing and otherwise agricultural—narrative, the Editor was congratulated on having himself drank wine out of a gourd and of having been asked for aims only to find himself dead broke—not an uncommon condition with Editors of Republican papers in Kentucky, by the way—and of knowing "a good thing" when he sees it and hears other people say so; and the entire Lexington force, from the foreman to the office cat, stood idle and entranced as the words rolled out as smoothly as if the speaker's vocal chords were fountains of Standard Oil.

Finally Mister Yerkes rang off his phonograph, folded his paper, drew his heavy top coat around him, bowed a Chesterfieldian farewell—and lit out, without saying in which battle of the Civil War he lost his right arm and thus won membership in the G. A. R.

He was going to Ohio on his aforementioned mission of humanity—and Constable Dawson, who was one of his sterling friends, craved the privilege of carrying his "grip" to the ferry.

Pending the receipt of the ever-expected check, he borrowed a dollar from Mr. Dawson—and they parted at the river.

AN IMPORTANT DIFFERENCE.

To make it apparent to thousands, who think themselves ill, that they are not afflicted with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleansing, is to bring comfort home to their hearts, as a positive condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all druggists.

The Difference in Cost!

Of thoroughly good, fashionable and serviceable clothes and shoes, such as bear "our" label, and inferior goods is not large enough to warrant you taking the risk attached to buying ordinary goods. The kind of clothes we sell are tailored by the same class of journeymen tailors as are employed by high-priced merchant tailors. Not a yard of fabric is used in these garments that has not been thoroughly tested for its textile strength and color fastness; therefore, we thoroughly endorse and guarantee all goods we sell, and say "money refunded" without argument if for any reason you are dissatisfied with your purchase.

Our Experience as Well as Yours!

Has proven that the kind of merchandise we sell is as near perfection as can be, and though they cost a little more than the other kinds, they are really the cheapest kind in the end. Our leaders in clothes are Stein-Bloch Co., Adler Bros. & Co., the best brands in the country.
